Applied Research Corporation Executive to Present on Leadership Transitions at Cornell Breakfast Series

- Ronald Bossert, Senior Vice President, Applied Research Corporation to Discuss Transition Coaching Process that Results in Significant Return on Investment-

METUCHEN, N.J. (April 28, 2004) –

WHO: Applied Research Corporation, a one-of-a-kind human resource consulting firm that delivers comprehensive assessment, coaching, transition leadership, and performance management strategies.

WHAT: Ronald (Ron) Bossert, Senior Vice President Transition Leadership Services, will present “Measuring ROI in Leadership Transition Programs”

WHEN: Monday, May 17, 2004 from 8:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

WHERE: The Cornell Conference Center in New York, N.Y.

DETAILS: Organizations often ask what the cost-benefit, or return on investment (ROI) is for a service, program or other initiative. While such requests for these types of analyses are routine for most strategic initiatives, a very small percentage is conducted on human resources and training and development services. The American Society for Training and Development (ASTD) found that less than 5% of all training classes are assessed for organizational impact. Bossert will discuss what new leaders need to do in the first six months to ensure their success for the next several years. More information about this event can be accessed at
